Jerusalem

- The Israeli Government is planning to build a huge Synagogue inside Al Aqsa Mosque in Jerusalem City. Al Quds (November 1, 2006).
- The IOF broke into the house of Mahmoud 'Arafat located in Ras Shihada area in Shu'fat refugee camp, carried an intensive house search and caused severe damage to the properties and a state of fear among his family residents. Al Quds (November 2, 2006).
- The IOF resumed wall constructions north of Jerusalem city and closed the main entrance of Al Bared outskirt (Dahiyat Al Barid) with huge wall blocks in an attempt to connect this part of the wall with that extending from Qalandyia crossing along the Ramallah-Jerusalem Roadway to reach Beit Hanina checkpoint opposite to Nusaiba Neighborhood north of Beit Hanina city. It is worth mentioning that this step will cause the complete isolation of Ar Ram town and Al Barid outskirt from Jerusalem city while isolating a number of Palestinian houses, schools and international organizations from their neighborhood. Wafa (November 5, 2006).

- Jerusalem Municipality demolished without pre-notification the house of Resident Najati 'Abdel Fattah Al Ja'bari from Ras Shihada area in Anata under the pretext that the land where the house lies belongs to a Jewish resident. The court also issued on the 28th of September 2006 seven other evacuation orders to Palestinian families living in 'Anata Town. It is worth mentioning that Mr. Al Ja'bari has been living in his house for more than 3 years. Al Quds (November 10, 2006).
- Jerusalem Municipality Court issued a military order to fine resident Mazen Abu 'Isha from Beit Hanina city north of Jerusalem city a penalty of one million and 370 thousand NIS for adding two storeys on his existing three storey building without License. The court gave Mr. Abu 'Isha a period of one year to issue a license for the newly added storeys or else they will be demolished. It is worth mentioning that 13 Palestinian families live in that building. Al Quds (November 10, 2006).
- The Israeli authorities issued a new military order number 84/06/T that confiscates a total of 1248 dunums of lands belonging to the Palestinian town of 'Anata in east Jerusalem. The lands will be used for the construction of the Segregation wall, to surround the Israeli settlement of Almon which is already built on lands belonging to Palestinians from 'Anata town. It's worth mentioning that the confiscation order was issued on the 5th of October, but residents of 'Anata town were only informed of it during the month of November. The confiscated lands are officially registered in the Palestinian land department ('Al-Tabu') as belonging to the families of 'Abed Al-Latif, Hamdan Abu-Haniyeh, I'layan and Helwe. Al Quds & Ma'an (November 12, 2006). Click here for more information

Ma'an (November 3, 2006).
- In a report issued by the Palestinian central burea of Statistics showed that the percentage of Palestinians who do not work, whether or not they are seeking a job or not, increased from 28.6 % in the second quarter to 30.3 % in the third quarter of 2006. In comparison, the level in the third quarter of 2000, just before the outbreak of the second Intifada, was 20.2 %. Overall, the unemployment rate in the West Bank increased from 18.0 % to 19.1 %

- and in the Gaza Strip, it increased from 34.0 % to 36.3 %. The Hebron governorate registered the highest unemployment rate in the West Bank at 24.2 % of the population. This was followed by Salfit governorate at 22.6%. Ma'an (November 7, 2006).
- In a tour of Gush Etzion and Rachel's Tomb in the West Bank on Tuesday, Knesset members from the right pointed out that there seems to be a new phenomena brewing in the West Bank: Illegal outposts erected by Arabs who are settling west of the security fence in order to get Israeli citizenship when the day arrives. Ynetnews (November 16, 2006).
 - In an article published by Arabs48 website showed that Israeli outposts located north of Jerusalem Governorate and close to Ramallah Governorate are being expanded. The Israeli Outpost Giv'at 'Asaf which was built in year 2001 witnessed lately an expansion which increased the number of caravans in the outpost to 20 in addition to a permanent residential building. 3 other caravans were added to Neve Brat outpost which was established in 2003, in addition to completion of constructing a permanent residential building in the settlement. Another permanent residential building has been added to Neve Erez outposts; not forgetting to mention that this outpost has been evacuated in 1999 but Israeli settlers rebuilt it in February 2001 and today it contains 15 caravans and is inhabited by 8 Jewish Families. Other expansionist activities have been taken place in three other outposts, Blaji Maim, Harasha and Zaiet Ra'nan. Arabs48 (November 16, 2006).
 - As of mid-January 2006, it will be illegal for Palestinians from the West Bank and the Jordan Valley to travel in Israeli (yellow) number plates, unless the driver, and the passenger, has the correct permits. The head of the Israel forces' central command, Major General Yair Naveh, has issued orders banning cars with Israeli (yellow) number plates from transporting Palestinians from the West Bank and the Jordan Valley unless the driver has a permit to do so. These instructions will come into force sixty days after their announcement, meaning that as of 19 January 2007, anyone who violates this rule will be legally prosecuted; meaning, Palestinian Arabs in Israel who wish to transport their direct relatives in their cars, and it excludes West Bank Palestinians with the correct permits to enter Israel. Ma'an (November 20, 2006).
 - Israeli settlers from Hosin settlement inside the Green Line uprooted an Olive grove belonging to Sam'an family from Sahmata village, one of the

- depopulated Palestinian villages during the 1949 war. Wafa (November 23, 2006).
- The ban, instituted by GOC Central Command Yair Naveh on allowing Palestinians to ride in Israeli cars in the West Bank will mainly be enforced near the border with Israel, and not throughout the West Bank. The ban is primarily to prevent illegal Palestinian entrants from being smuggled into Israel in Israeli cars, whose occupants are usually checked less carefully. Haaretz (November 26, 2006).
 - In a report issued by Deshe Institute (Hebrew acronym for "Image of the Land") Institute for the Preservation of Open Spaces showed that the built-up areas in Israel have increased 17-fold from 1948 to the 2000s, and are expected to double by 2020. In the area north of Be'er Sheva, population density is expected to increase from 640 people per square kilometer today to 900 people in the same area in 2020. Without guiding development wisely and making efficient use of the land, large portions of the remaining open land reserves in Israel will be destroyed. Haaretz (November 27, 2006).
 - In a report issued by 'Adala Center, the Legal Center for Arab Minority Rights in Israel showed that Israel's Negev development plan for 2015 that is supposed to develop the Negev (Naqab) area in the south of Israel, including raising the socio-economic conditions for the local residents is just a continuation to the Israeli policy of oppression of the Arab citizens of the area. The Negev 2015 plan, which was approved by the Israeli government in November 2005, intends to assign NIS 17 billion (~ US$4 billion) to the area which is intended to develop the housing and settlement of the region. According to the plan, most of the housing will be assigned for Jews, and a hundred Jews-only farms are planned to be developed. The plan will exclude the Bedouins, in spite of the fact that they number some 17,000 people who have lived in the area for decades but are not recognized by the Israeli government. Ma'an (November 28, 2006).
 - The government proposes to extend the Citizenship and Entry into Israel Law (the Temporary Order known as the "Citizenship Law"), by two years, until the end of 2008, despite the harsh criticism leveled at it by the High Court of Justice. The current Temporary Order is valid until January 16, 2007, and must either be extended or replaced before that date. The bill gives Israel the right to reject an applicant who meets all the criteria "if in the applicant's country of residency or if within his vicinity of residence

- activities liable to endanger the security of the State of Israel or its citizens take place." This clause ostensibly gives Israel the right to reject any resident of the Palestinian Authority or any Arab country. Haaretz (November 29, 2006).
- The government has no plans to change the status of nine Palestinian villages located within the municipal boundaries of Jerusalem but outside of the separation fence, despite the fact that it does not provide these communities with vital services and that residents of the towns must cross through roadblocks on a daily basis. Haaretz (November 30, 2006)
