Overview

The Israeli acts – the Israeli Army and settlers alike- reflect clear and explicit declaration the Israeli stand toward the peace process, which aims to undermine and even eliminate any chance for the Palestinians to have an independent viable state; especially when Israel is dealing with the international efforts to move the peace process forward with ridicule as they claim one thing and practice on the ground something else making it quite clear that Israel is inevitably moving with its expansion and unilateral separation plans, which serves its interests and contradicts the signed agreements with the Palestinian side and more importantly the internationally led efforts to revive the peace process. Under such circumstance it became evident that both the Israeli and Palestinians working on different agenda; making the prospect for a mutual negotiated peace settlement to the conflict unattainable goal.

During the designated time of this report (June 13, 2014 – April 15, 2015) the Israeli occupation Army and its political entity have taken advantage of the regional turbulence and storming events in order to fortify its grip on the occupied Palestinian territory (oPt). To this end, the Israeli Army confiscated some 10,916 Dunums from Palestinians for various pretexts, demolished 266 Palestinian houses, and uprooted more than 20,237 trees. Moreover, Israel continued insistently with building and expansion in the settlements' built-up area as the tenders issued to construct housing units in various Israeli settlements during the time set in this report accumulate to 23,653.

To that, during the designated time of this report, the Israeli Army issued 263 military orders to carryout its plans in the occupied West Bank territory that included house's demolishing, land confiscation, uprooting trees, among others.

Israeli Military Orders

Israel has always tried to escape its status as an occupier of the Palestinian territory by attempting to justify its existence as an administrative to the occupied territory. For this reason, Israel resorted to military orders to validate its belligerent acts, using its “military purposes” pretext to violate the international humanitarian laws and the United Nations Security Council resolutions. Following the signing of the Oslo Accord in 1993, Israel has issued thousands of military orders to contemplate its plans to consolidate its control over the occupied territory starting from building and expanding settlements and bypass roads, confiscation lands, etc and ending up with the Segregation Wall. However, many of the military orders were not made available for public or to those of concern to this day, and the ones that were available were recorded subsequently.

As for the designated time of this report, the Israeli Army has issued 255 military orders were issued in the Palestinian governorates; each to its purpose as listed in the following pie chart 1.

Land Confiscation

The consecutive Israeli governments adopted a policy to acquire much of the West Bank lands to build and expand the Israeli settlements by employing different methods; most renowned of which, “Security,” which is also, how Israel was able to restrict Palestinian towns’ development on the remaining areas.

Consequently, Israel has devised its own set of laws; tailoring different procedures to acquire Palestinian lands based on ratified ottoman and Jordanian laws and even though all the consecutive Israeli governments adopted the settlement policy in the occupied Palestinian territory, each had a different approach to realize their shared objective, which is to maintain the settlement program constantly active. Accordingly, military expropriation of land for the settlements’ benefit continued until the 1979; until the Elon Moreh ruling, which refuted land confiscation using military orders to make land available for new settlements or expansion of existing ones. However, Israel has moved on to what it later refereed to as a more effective method to grab Palestinian land and that by using the "state land" pretext to control the land, nevertheless, the Israeli military continued to provide indirect support for the settlements and the state land pretext, when it took over site under military use pretext and facilitate the infrastructure (water, electricity, roads, etc) before the location is relinquished to be declared a state land and handed over to the Israeli settlers. Even more, the government of Israel continued to facilitate and encourage private Israeli initiative to control land through the private market sales. Such illegal methods enabled Israel to control on hundreds of thousands of dunums, which ultimately denied Palestinian from their right to carry out any development to their communities. The Israeli manipulated such methods to alter the administrative boundaries of the West Bank districts and later on in the Oslo accord to draw out the line of the 1995 second Interim agreement.

Over the course of the Israeli continues occupation, Israel employed the following methods for the acquisition of Palestinian lands for the benefit of the Israeli settlements and other purposes.

1. Acquisition by Declaring “State Land”
2. Acquisition by Declaring “Abandoned Land”
3. Acquisition by Declaring “Lands for Military Purposes”
4. Acquisition by Declaring “Closed Military Zones”
5. Acquisition by Declaring “Expropriation for Public Services”

Since 1967, Israel utilized all the laws that were once running in this part of the land; at least the ones that it can make use of to justify its occupation in an attempt to legalize the various methods it uses to carryout its systematic policy to confiscate Palestinians’ lands to make it available for the occupation Army or/ and for the Israeli settlers. For decades now, Israel grabbed the Palestinians’ private lands in oPt to build and expand settlements or to construct and increase the bypass roads network. During the time of this report,

Israel as an entity along with the Israeli settlers confiscated/ destroyed seized for so-called “military purposes” 415,266 Dunums of Palestinian land in the West Bank.

The following reflect data source of information for Land Confiscation along with examples of related military orders.

2. IDF orders West Bank village land seized for settler road. The road, like the nearby Amona outpost, was constructed without a permit. The Israel Defense Forces has issued an expropriation order for land in the West Bank village of Ein Yabrud, so that settlers from the nearby Amona outpost can continue using a road that crosses the land. The 6.4-dunam (slightly over an acre) plot is owned by Palestinians. The road, like Amona itself, was built without a permit. Last summer, after the High Court of Justice heard at length a petition filed by the Yesh Din human rights organization on behalf of the landowners, part of the road was destroyed. A new access road was rebuilt along what had been a public road when the Jordanians controlled the West Bank, from 1948 to 1967. But the new road was just four meters wide, and a sharp curve made it nearly impassable to buses. Last winter, settlers began widening the road without authorization, so that it again encroached on private Palestinian land. The state said it would try to stop the illegal roadwork, and the cabinet secretary instructed a team of transportation experts to find a legal solution to the problem of access to Amona, itself an unauthorized outpost that was built illegally on private Palestinian land. The experts were unable to provide such a solution, given the absence of either land rights or a zoning plan in the relevant area. That led to a decision to expropriate, for military use, the land on which the original access road was built. The order was secretly issued by GOC Central Command Maj. Gen. Nitzan Alon in May, but the Palestinians learned of it only in July. Attorneys Michael Sfar and Shlomy Zachary of Yesh Din returned to the High Court. They claimed the expropriation order suffered from several legal flaws, above all the fact that the land would apparently be used for an access road to Amona. That would make the order ipso facto illegal, they wrote, "Because an expropriation order is supposed to be issued only for vital and urgent security needs." The court's ruling on this issue, as well as on the fate of most of the outpost's houses, is still pending. Though expropriation orders are supposed to be used only for security purposes, at one time, settlements were routinely built on land expropriated through such orders. But in 1979, the High Court ruled this practice illegal, and the state complied. That makes the expropriation order issued for Amona's benefit extremely unusual. (Haaretz 8 August 2014)
3. Israel recognizes 4,000 dunam in Gush Etzion as state land. Settlement Gva'ot now declared part of Israeli land in West Bank; Peace Now: 'This is a message to the Palestinians that Israel would negotiate with Hamas and at the same time destroy chance to reach true accord with moderates.' Israel announced Sunday that it will recognize the 4,000 dunam (according to the order: 3799 dunums) Gva'ot settlement in the West Bank as state land. The IDF said there was no Palestinian claim on the area in question, but those against the decision could file their objections within 45 days. Gva'ot, located at the western part of Gush Etzion, is officially considered a neighborhood of the settlement Alon Shvut. In actuality, it operates as a separate community a few kilometers away. Gva'ot has not been officially recognized by Israel since it was built without zoning permits, so in order to start the process of declaring it a recognized community, the state had to delineate the boundaries of the community. Most of the territories in the West Bank are divided to three categories: private land (whose ownership is registered with the state), state land (areas that haven't been worked and are not listed in the with the Israel Land Authority that are considered state-owned), and lands under survey or "admot seker" (land that has reverted to the state due to lack of use for 10 years and lack of registered ownership, but which has yet to be declared as such). These surveys, which in many cases take years to carry out, aim to determine the ownership of the land based on several criteria. In most cases, the declaration of status is delayed because the government has yet to make the decision on the issue. Gva'ot is located in the heart of Gush Etzion, near the hill on which the men of the Haganah Convoy of 35 were killed during Israel's War of Independence in 1948. In order to create territorial continuity from the communities to the Green Line, the government decided in 1982 to build a Nahal settlement in Gva'ot. (Ynetnews 31 August 2014)

House Demolition

The long and extensive history of the ingoing Israeli house demolition policy in the occupied Palestinian territory does not only constitute a grave breach of Palestinian right to housing, but also an application of the prohibited "collective punishment" as emphasized in the Fourth Geneva Convention of 1949; Article 33, which strenuously rebut without exception; infliction of punishment on an individual/s for an act committed by another.

Art. 33. No protected person may be punished for an offence he or she has not personally committed. Collective penalties and likewise all measures of intimidation or of terrorism are prohibited.

In addition to article 33 of the Geneva Convention, Israel's house demolition policy in the occupied Palestinian territory was never based on military necessities as indicated in Article 53 of the Convention but merely on vindictive reasons as collective punishment and in Jerusalem; house demolition is carried out to clear Palestinian houses for the illegally built Israeli settlements.

Art. 53. Any destruction by the Occupying Power of real or personal property belonging individually or collectively to private persons, or to the State, or to other public authorities, or to social or cooperative organizations, is prohibited, except where such destruction is rendered absolutely necessary by military operations.

During the designated period of this report, the Israeli Army demolished 215 Palestinian houses and 105 structures in the West Bank territory, 66 and 53 respectively of which in Jerusalem city. Chart 1 & 2 show respectively by month and governorate the number of Palestinian's houses demolished in the West Bank and Jerusalem over the designated period of this report.

Israeli Settlers' Violence

The Israeli settlers attacks has definitely been upgraded from being violent attacks associated with severe hostility toward the Palestinian civilian population to an organized attacks orchestrated to terrorize and imperil the lives and way of life the Palestinian population.

The Israeli settlers' attacks on Palestinian and their properties in the occupied Palestinian territory remains to be a main concern especially that such attacks are disregarded by the Israeli occupation Army; in fact much of such attacks are carried out under their protection and direct sight. The settlers premeditated attacks has grown over the past decade in number of and also in types of attacks, which have grown more violently than even the Palestinians expected over years. The Israeli settlers stopped at nothing to turn the Palestinians lives upside down, destroying the agricultural lands, uprooting and burning trees, contamination of cultivated fields and wells. Statistics shows that settler violence against Palestinians and their property in the occupied Palestinian territory is on the rise. Even more; the attacks carried out by Israeli settlers included defacing religious sites including churches, mosques, burning and writing profound graffiti.

the figures for the number of attacks reflects a worrying trend, particularly in recent years as such attacks are carried out under the “price tag” slogan, which is a reaction or retaliation on the Israeli settlers' part against Palestinians for an act the Israeli army takes against settlers while supposedly enforcing the law. During the designated time of this report; 678 attacks were carried out by Israeli settlers. The Israeli attacks on Palestinians have varied in types and have perpetrated various forms against. 444. Settlers build synagogue on Palestinian land, bill owner. After petitioning court to have illegal structure removed from his land, Abdul al-Jaabari receives NIS 88,200 property tax bill. Kiryat Arba, an Israeli settlement on the outskirts of Hebron, billed a Palestinian citizen NIS 88,000 ($22,000) in property taxes after he petitioned an Israeli court to demolish a synagogue illegally built on his land. Last April, Abdul-Karim al-Jaabari petitioned the High Court of Justice to have the makeshift synagogue demolished. In its response, the settlement argued that since the property in question was not on Kiryat Arba's land, it was not under the jurisdiction of the court. In August, the court determined that the synagogue had been built on private property, and ordered it removed. In its ruling, the court countered the settlement's claim, and said that Jaabari's property was under the jurisdiction of the Kiryat Arba Council and therefore the High Court's as well. This week, Jaabari received a property tax bill for NIS 88,200 from the Kiryat Arba Council. In the letter, the settlement cited the High Court's finding that his property was under the jurisdiction of the settlement, and therefore was eligible to be taxed. The bill also included a provision that if the bill went unpaid, his property would be seized and sold. Al-Jaabari told Palestinian media that the unprecedented move was an attempt to force his family off their property. The Kiryat Arba Council said it would comment on the incident later this week. Twenty years after an official committee of inquiry rejected this policy, the state continues to help Elad settlers take over a home in Silwan. In a response submitted to the Supreme Court prior to a hearing on Thursday, March 12, 2015, at the case of Elad settler organization against the Ruweidi family, the state argues that the family's home in Wadi Hilweh in Silwan is considered "an absentee property" and, consequently, the Ruweidi family which has been living in the home since before 1967, is not the owner. Keren Kayemet Le Israel-Jewish National Fund (KKL-JNF), which comprises a link in the chain designed to transfer the properties to Elad, also presented support to the court for dispossessing the family from its property. ## Expansion in Israeli Settlements

During the designated period of this report, the Israeli settlements' council, the Israeli Civil Administration, and the illegitimate Israeli municipality of Jerusalem issued plans and tenders to expand 17 settlements in the West Bank and Jerusalem for a total of 6299 new settlement units.

Israeli Settlement Expansion - by Governorate

The expansion in Israeli settlements continued at a noticeable pace during the reporting period but with more attention as the expansions schemes declared by the Israeli government's various points of occupation were made in a manner and timing intended to convoy Israel's position in any negotiation on the settlements' issue and its status under any final agreement with the Palestinian side. On such thought, Israel issued construction and plans approvals for 6299 new settlement units in 17 Israeli settlements in 6 Palestinian governorates, most of which 3045 housing units (48.3%) in settlements located in Jerusalem Governorate and 1596 housing units (25.3%) in settlements located in Bethlehem Governorate.

Israeli Settlement Expansion – Location from Wall

During the reporting period, 4417 units (70.1%) occurred in settlements located in settlement blocks enfolding Jerusalem – within what is called by Israel the “Greater Jerusalem” area; whereas, the remaining tenders targeted settlements west of the of the segregation wall in the area that Israel declared repeatedly it is planning to annex to its proper under any agreement with the Palestinians (the area that falls between the Segregation Wall and the 1949 Armistice Line).

GAZA

The Timeline of the Israeli Security Buffer Zone in the Gaza Strip

A security buffer zone, 58 km in length and 0.5 km in width along Gaza's northern and eastern borders was identified in a part-clause of the 1994 Oslo Accord. It constituted 8% (29 km<sup>2</sup>) of Gaza's total area and was patrolled jointly by the Israelis and the Palestinians. When the Second Intifada broke out in September 2000, the Israeli Army unilaterally increased the width of the buffer zone to 0.8 km width, and by the time Israel completed its unilateral disengagement (redeployment) in Gaza, the security buffer zone ranging between 0.8-1.3 km constituted 17% (61 km<sup>2</sup>) of Gaza's total area, ultimately falling under complete control of the Israeli Army. In June 2007, the Israeli Army completed yet another unilateral step to expand and increase the width of the security buffer zone to an overall width of 1.5 km. Accordingly, the Israeli Army continued to occupy some 24% (87 km<sup>2</sup>) of the Gaza Strip area. The status remained as such until December 2012 when the Israeli Army retreated back to 300 meters security zone, which continued to allow Israel control on 17.4 km<sup>2</sup> and that is 4.8% of the Gaza Strip area.

The restriction on the land to sea area available for Palestinians to use for fishing became a distance of 20 nautical miles in 1994 based on the agreement in the Oslo Accords. As a result of various Israeli imposed restrictions, Palestinians were reduced to utilizing just 12 nautical miles starting in August 2002 with the Bertini Agreement. Since then, the Israeli Army unilaterally reduced the fishing area available for Palestinian fishing to 10 nautical miles in April 2006, then to 6 nautical miles in October 2006, and finally 3 nautical miles since January 2009, which is the current restriction.

PRELIMINARY ASSESSMENT FOR THE ASSAULT ON GAZA STRIP 2014

The Israeli attacks on the Gaza Strip since the 8th of July have resulted in a severe humanitarian crisis. The damages caused by this assault far exceed the destruction caused by the previous two, with significant civilian casualties, widespread destruction of civilian buildings and infrastructure throughout the Strip and massive displacement of people. This is the worst escalation of conflict in the Gaza Strip since the beginning of the Israeli occupation of 1967, even surpassing the length and severity of Israel's 2008/2009 Operation "Cast Lead". The entire Gazan population of almost 1.8 million people is affected by the crisis in some way. Thousands of tons of munitions were fired on Gaza. Around 1,951 Palestinians have been killed (of which 469 are children, 243 females and 88 elderly) and up to 10,193 of the Palestinians have been injured (including 3,084 children, 1,970 women and 368 elderly)<sup>1</sup>; taking into consideration that the numbers are continuing to increase as the killing of civilians is ongoing.

Approximately 490,000 people<sup>2</sup>(over a quarter of the population) are seeking refuge in UN or governmental schools, public buildings and with host families and churches; all of which were identified as safe shelters from the Israeli military missiles, though that has proven to not always be the case. Furthermore, the preliminary surveys done by the humanitarian agencies in Gaza showed that more than 70,000 people have lost their homes which are completely damaged<sup>3</sup> in addition to numerous health centers, hospitals, mosques, electricity generating plant, water resources, sewage network, agricultural production lands and industrial production plants and facilities. Up to 44% of the Gaza Strip area has been declared as no-go area during hostilities, causing lack of access to operate, maintain and repair water infrastructure. These attacks on infrastructure have left large number of the people in Gaza without food, water, shelters, electricity, and/or medical services. Almost 90% of wells, wastewater treatment and desalinization plants cannot operate due to power cuts and lack of fuel<sup>4</sup>.

It is worth mentioning that this assault comes at a time of heightened vulnerability and instability in Gaza especially after the Cast Lead operation that took place in the year 2008/2009. Around 66% of the people in Gaza were receiving food assistance prior to this assault and the food insecurity level or vulnerable to food insecurity stood at 72% of households<sup>5</sup>. Poverty rates and deep poverty, reached up to 38.8% and 21.1% respectively in the year 2011<sup>6</sup>. Unemployment has increased dramatically since mid-2013; reaching up to 46.9% on June 2014<sup>7</sup>. This is following a halt of the illegal tunnel trade and the impact of the blockade and longstanding access restrictions imposed by Israel preventing any economic activity. The on-going energy crisis is another challenge that faces the people of Gaza, resulting in devastating effects on the water, sanitation and hygiene and health sector.

The UN agencies in cooperation with the Palestinian Governmental Ministries, local authorities and NGOs have established an integrated preliminary surveying system to estimate the damages, losses, and cost for rehabilitation and reconstruction of Gaza Strip in different socioeconomic, public, private and services sectors. This is considered on-going work to respond to the current assault on the Gaza Strip. This preliminary assessment report is a first output for this collaborative work. The estimates of losses and damages included in this report are collected from up-to-date reporting from different sources including site/field information, official data from Governmental and international bodies, and remote sensing analysis utilizing satellite images.

At a later stage this collaboration will embark on conducting a comprehensive Geo-referenced assessment for Gaza, which will be presented as a web-based GIS platform that provides up-to-date feedback about the progress of rehabilitation and reconstruction works in Gaza at all sectoral levels, and feedback for intervention priorities and aid orientation. This tool will be essential to support the monitoring, evaluation and planning processes for Gaza rehabilitation; it will enhance the coordination among relevant agencies, and optimize the utilization of resources and funds.

AGRICULTURE

One of the sectors most extensively affected is the agricultural sector which was directly targeted by the Israeli tanks and missiles. Hundreds of sheep and cow heads have died as a result of missiles or missiles fragments' and from lack of feed and water; as the owners were unable to access their farms. Furthermore, a large number of the irrigation wells, irrigation systems, greenhouses, productive trees, post-harvest facilities and agricultural equipment were targeted and destroyed.

The fishery sector was also greatly affected specifically that fishermen could not access the sea and the seashores during the assault's period and many of the fishing boats were destroyed by the Israeli Military. Additionally, the fishing syndicate building was bombarded by Israeli missiles. Thus, the amount of fish available at the local Gaza market was reduced significantly; impacting the amount of available food in Gaza Strip. Assessments shows that the direct value of incurred losses by the agricultural sector including plant, animal, infrastructure and fishery subsectors reached to $315,149,436 while the indirect losses were estimated at $134,000,000<sup>8</sup> (See Figure -1-, Table -1-). The plant production sector has the highest share of damages. The areas most affected in the agricultural sector by the destruction are Khan Yunis followed by Rafah, Gaza, North Gaza, and Middle Area.

The Ministry of Agriculture (MoA) has set the priority of interventions and their required financing for the agriculture sector based on the estimated value of damages. The interventions are categorized under immediate, recovery and long term interventions; covering the main agricultural subsectors. The immediate humanitarian interventions include inputs, asset repairs, and cash support for. The early recovery interventions include the rehabilitation of farms and infrastructures, cash support, and restocking. The long term interventions include reconstruction of infrastructures, buildings, services, value chain development, and others. (See Table -2-)

Level of Intervention	Financing Requirements ($)
Immediate Humanitarian Intervention	139,200,000
Early Recovery Intervention	129,800,000
Long Term Intervention	182,149,400
Total	451,149,400

HEALTH

The extent of injuries and casualties during this attack is shocking; it caused extensive disruption to the Gaza health system, compounded by damage to infrastructure and a breakdown of services, causing the whole system to struggle to cope with the high number of injuries in the face of medical supply shortages and power outages. Of course women, children and elderly are among the most vulnerable and affected groups. The siege that has been imposed continuously on the Gaza Strip by the Israelis affected the updating of the medical institutions and limited the availability of required equipment and medications. The current crisis has illuminated the dramatic effects of the massive shortage in the availability of medical needs especially the intensive care facilities, including equipment and tools, medicines, and human resources.

The surveyed damages and assessed urgent needs of the hospitals and medical centers by the Ministry of Health (MoH) shows that the main hospitals were all affected by the Israeli bombardment and are not functioning according to their normal capacities, and cannot meet the current medical needs of the assault. Since the onset of the assault, 5 primary health clinics (PHCs) and 8 governmental hospitals were totally destroyed, 24 PHCs were partially destroyed, 10 ambulances were damaged, and 15 ambulances were partially damaged<sup>10</sup>. In addition, the assault resulted in a huge number of patients with physical disabilities and psychological traumas that require treatment. (See Map -1-)

The identified urgent needs vary between reconstruction, repair, and maintenance of the damaged physical structure including the damaged structures (rooms, buildings, sections and walls), windows, doors, electrical generators, electrical, water and communication networks. Additionally, the MoH assessment covered the urgent needs for these hospitals and centers for medical equipment, Electro Mechanical Systems, emergency communication systems, spare parts for medical equipment and systems, and vehicles. The total value of damages in the health sector reached $47,392,500<sup>11</sup>. (See Table -3-).

2	PHCC's Damages	10,900,000
3	Medical Equipment and tools, Electro Mechanical Systems, emergency communication Systems	25,500,000

5	Vehicles	322,000
Total		47,392,500

The MoH propose set of priority of interventions for the immediate humanitarian and early recovery stages including the following (See Table -4-)

Immediate humanitarian interventions:

- Support for PHC services and the provision of medical supplies to avoid epidemic infection, due to contaminated water. Fix the damage in water piping and sanitary networks, repair electrical, mechanical, medical equipment (generators, air conditions, medical gases, communication, low voltages systems, UPS and other medical equipment).

- Provision of secure and healthy shelters instead of the damaged PHC centers/

Early Recovery interventions:

- Reconstruction, furnishing, equipping and rehabilitation for the damages hospitals and PHC clinics.
- Repairing electromechanical and medical equipment.
- Provision of new electromechanical and medical equipment.

EDUCATION

The impact of the attacks Gaza witnessed extended to include the education sector. Many schools have been directly targeted during the attacks. The number of government schools that have been completely damaged and cannot be used total 22, while 119 other schools are partially damaged and need rehabilitation in order to be used again. Furthermore, due to the huge number of Internally Displaced People (IDP), and the unavailability of safe places within Gaza, schools have been used as shelter for those who had to flee their neighborhoods, or whose houses have been damaged. School rooms have been transformed into bedrooms, hosting whole families, and there has been extensive use of schools' hygienic and other basic facilities. As of August 3, the number of IDPs who took shelter in both UNRWA and governmental schools was approximately 292,534.<sup>13</sup> The number of public schools used as shelters reached 25, distributed among the different governorates of the Gaza Strip.

It is worth mentioning that UNRWA schools were also used as safe shelters by the IDPs. According to UNRWA, “90 out of UNRWA’s 156 school buildings serve as shelters, and the remaining schools are either within the buffer zone or otherwise inaccessible.”<sup>14</sup> In addition, private schools and pre-schools have been targeted by the attacks. (See Figure - 2-)

The value of the damage of schools buildings and infrastructure reached approximately $22,119,000.<sup>16</sup> It is estimated that the reconstruction and rehabilitation of affected schools could take 3-10 months. And while schools that have been used as shelter will need to be restored to their pre-crisis state, the reconstruction of new schools to replace those that have been completely damaged will also be required. (See Map -2-)

Damages incurred by schools were not limited to buildings and infrastructure, but also include the destruction of supplies. Resources such as furniture, computers, technology tools, libraries, stationary and science laboratory equipment were destroyed or damaged. The value of these damaged supplies reaches approximately $11,025,000.<sup>17</sup> Furthermore, 5 buildings of higher education institutes have incurred major damages. Those belong to the Islamic University, Al Aqsa University, Palestine Technical College, and the University College of Applied Sciences. The value of damages incurred by these institutes is estimated at $16,000,000.<sup>18</sup>

According to OCHA, partners in the rehabilitation process might need to “explore the possibility of temporary learning spaces or transportation support for students left without access to schools in their home communities”<sup>19</sup>, especially since the new school year in Gaza is expected to start soon. Furthermore, the immediate humanitarian rehabilitation process of the education sector includes the provision of school uniforms; bags; and stationary to students, in addition to the rehabilitation of schools that have incurred minor damages and the psychosocial support needed to deal with the psychological repercussions of the assault. The early recovery interventions would tackle the rehabilitation of heavily damaged schools and university buildings, and the provision of equipment needed to implement student activities. Furthermore, long-term interventions will be needed in order to construct and furnish new schools that respond to the growing needs of the population in the Gaza Strip. (See Table -5-)

HOUSING

Still recovering from the 2008-09 and 2012 wars, the 1.8 million Palestinians of the Gaza Strip have yet to deal with the inflicted damage to Gaza’s housing and shelter infrastructure, further devastated by the recent 2014 assault. The assault that took the lives of nearly 2000 Palestinians and injured more than 10,000 has also hit Gaza’s housing sector severely. As a direct result of the Israeli bombardment; more than one-fourth of Gaza’s population has been categorized as IDPs (and the number is anticipated to increase). According to reports from the field; 68.4% (335,100 individual) of those displaced have become so due to the extensive damages of their houses. (See Figure -3-) The value of the damages incurred by these houses is estimated at $970,000,000.<sup>21</sup>

The damaged houses of Gaza were categorized according to the extent of damage inflicted on the houses: a total of 60,000 housing units have been affected.<sup>22</sup> This number reflects that almost 24% of housing units within the Gaza Strip have incurred a level of damage and destruction due to the Israeli attacks. Figure -4- shows the damage levels that occurred to houses in Gaza Strip.

For the rehabilitation of the housing sector, immediate humanitarian interventions (within 2 months) are needed. Those include the provision of cash and non-cash assistance (for the purchase of food, medicine, and blankets) to IDPs whose houses have incurred major damages or total destruction. The early recovery stage will require the following interventions:

- Dismantling and removal of explosive materials, and rubble.
- Temporary sheltering for IDPs, through renting temporary apartments or the provision of mobile homes and caravans.
- Urgent maintenance for housing units, and urgent repair of damaged buildings.

Long term interventions would target the repairing of damaged housing units during the recent assault, in addition to the reconstruction of housing units due to previous assaults. This would also include the maintenance of roads that have been targeted within targeted neighborhoods. (See Table -6-)

WATER, SANITATION & HYGIENE

The impact of the attacks severely impacted the water, sanitation and hygiene sectors. Primary water pipelines, water reservoirs, house connections, sewage pipelines, wastewater treatment plants and sewage pumping stations were damaged and have been directly targeted during the attacks. The damages to the water infrastructure have resulted in cuts or severely restricted water provision to Gaza's citizens, where the damages to the wastewater treatment plants and the sewage network has caused sewage flooding in the residential areas and the mixing of sewage with water, posing a severe environmental threat and risk of water-borne diseases.

Furthermore, as a result of the bombing of the Gaza Strip's power station causing a shortage of electricity, which was compounded by the shortage of fuel needed to operate the power station, pumping stations of water wells and the waste water treatment plants, as well as the desalination process was disabled while water supply to the houses, sewage collection and treatment were severely restricted. Due to the massive damages to the water and sanitation infrastructure and the lack of access to clean water and sanitation facilities, at least 1.4 million<sup>24</sup> of Gaza's population has been affected and left, particularly the children, vulnerable to serious public health risks.

The value of damages to the water and sanitation infrastructure is estimated at $15,739,000 and $7,590,100, respectively.<sup>25</sup> This is in addition to another $11,105,000 for the total damages that have been incurred by water and sanitation vehicles, equipment & IT, stationary and other unforeseen damages. This total amount is distributed as illustrated in Table -7-.

For the rehabilitation of the water and sanitation infrastructure, immediate humanitarian interventions are needed to repair the damaged water supply and wastewater facilities, provide potable water for domestic use and sanitary installations for displaced population, and provide fuel, generators and equipment to operate facilities. Early recovery interventions would include the reconstruction of the damaged water supply and wastewater facilities, supplying fuel to operate those facilities, supply of chlorine for the disinfection of water supply, the provision of water and sanitation vehicles, in addition to spare parts and equipment. The long term interventions would provide additional water supply with good quality through: constructing regional seawater desalination plants, and Gaza North-South carrier and short term seawater desalination plants, improving the efficiency of water distribution network, constructing new efficient wastewater treatment plants and improving the efficiency of the existing ones, increasing the coverage of sewerage network, and initiating the reuse of treated wastewater for agriculture. The total estimates for the different interventions at the three stages immediate, recovery and long term are detailed in Table -8-.

ROAD INFRASTRUCTURE & TRANSPORTATION

One of the major challenges that have faced relief workers, doctors, and paramedics during the assault on Gaza is the destruction of roads. This has made the process of reaching people in serious need for help very challenging, and has resulted in the inability to evacuate casualties and other civilians under attack. In addition, the destruction of roads has constrained international and local aid agencies from providing people with basic needs such as water and food, and has contributed to the increasing risk of diseases as well as the severity and seriousness of many injuries and casualties.

Damages to the road infrastructure included the destruction of primary, secondary and side roads. As a result, and in order to facilitate emergency relief missions, many municipalities had to act in order to open blocked streets – especially primary ones – through the rental of tractors to remove the rubble and facilitate the movement of people evacuating areas under attack. Figure -6- reflects the value of damages affecting the road network according to governorate.

The destruction resulting from the continuous attacks was not limited to road networks and infrastructure, but also included the targeting of private vehicles owned by citizens. Accordingly, the estimated damage value of completely destroyed private vehicles is $34,140,000. In addition, the value of partially damaged private vehicles is estimated at $7,737,500.<sup>30</sup> (See Figure -7-)

It is worth mentioning that almost 249 public vehicles were also destroyed in this attack. Those are vehicles owned by the civil defense, Ministry of Health (MoH), Palestinian Red Crescent Society (PRCS), municipalities and other government agencies, with a damage value of $2,877,500. Furthermore, 10 agricultural tractors have been affected, with a damage cost of $200,000.<sup>31</sup>

ELECTRICITY

The Israeli assault on the Gaza Strip has caused infrastructural losses in the Electricity Sector estimated at some $55,842,582. This includes damage to the Gaza Electricity Distribution Corporation's (GDECO) main storage warehouse, damage to the electrical and steel structures of the electricity networks in the Gaza Strip, the destruction of the only local power plant supplying electricity to the Gaza Strip (located in Nuseirat) - which was attacked by Israel on July 29, and the destruction of Gaza North substation. (See Figure -8-) The only local power plant is currently not functional with the fuel stock burnt, and will need at least a year to repair.<sup>32</sup> According to OCHA's Gaza Emergency situation report (as of 12 August 2014), the volume of electricity purchased now from Israel and Egypt meets less than 30% of the estimated demand for electricity in the Gaza Strip.<sup>33</sup> As a result, Gaza's electricity company is preparing to implement a new distribution scheme, entailing cycles of six hours of supply followed by 12 hours of outage. However, the majority of households in the areas most affected by bombardments, including eastern Gaza City, Beit Hanoun, Khuza'a and east of Rafah, are not likely to benefit from this due to the severe damage sustained by the internal distribution network.<sup>34</sup>

The immediate humanitarian interventions needed in order to supply Gaza Strip's population with electricity and fill the current gap between supply and demand, entails completing the reform of the rest of the Israeli lines and conducting urgent maintenance for all other lines in order to return electricity to full capacity (120 MW), and reduce shortage in power supply. Furthermore, there is an urgent need to contract with local suppliers to temporarily repair the main lines coming from the Israel Electric Corporation (IEC), and reform the damaged networks. In addition, the rental of a temporary storage warehouse for GDECO is required. For the stage of early recovery, interventions such as the construction of a new warehouse; repairing the damaged local power plant; and the provision of alternative sources of electricity in case of disturbances are required. For long term interventions, switching Gaza power plant from industrial diesel fuel to natural gas might be essential, and it would cut the production cost and increase efficiency. Restoring Gaza west substation to its original design system would also be needed. (See Table -9-)

PALESTINIAN MONETARY AUTHORITY (PMA) & BANKS

Banks within Gaza Strip have also incurred damages due to the Israeli attacks. Many of Gaza Strip's banks along with facilities belonging to the Palestinian Monetary Authority (PMA) have incurred some degree of damage, ranging from minor to major destruction of buildings, while others – like the Nuseirat Branch of the Arab Islamic Bank – have been completely destroyed. The continuous attacks on Gaza Strip have paralyzed the banking sector, during which no banks were able to open doors to people in order to withdraw cash needed for daily urgent needs, while many ATM machines were destroyed, or inaccessible due to the unsafe situation. Figure -9- shows the value of damages incurred by the infrastructure of the PMA and the banking system.

Early recovery interventions would be needed in order to repair, reconstruct, and rehabilitate the affected bank branches, for them to start their operations again, and serve their clients.

INDUSTRY, MANUFACTURING, TRADE & SERVICES

The economic losses that Gaza Strip has incurred due to the Israeli assault are huge. Some of these losses can be considered direct damages, such as the partial and total destruction of industrial facilities and commercial establishments – where the number of those affected is approximately 6,116 (See Figure -10-), and the damage to Gaza Industrial Estate (GIE). In addition, it includes the production losses incurred during the assaults period. On the other hand, indirect damages include opportunity losses incurred by the private sector and loss of jobs, whose impact extends to affect the livelihood of targeted employees and their families.

The rehabilitation of this sector would require early recovery interventions in order to repair partially destroyed facilities, and compensate the private sector for their lost opportunities. Long term interventions – needed to reconstruct and rehabilitate this sector – would include but are not limited to: compensation for production losses; the reconstruction of totally destroyed factories and facilities; the development of border crossings for the movement of goods; capacity building; job creation & placement; and enhancing specialization and innovation. (See Table -10-)

TELECOMMUNICATIONS & INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

The Israeli assault on the Gaza Strip has affected the telecommunications and information technology sector. During the attacks, the network and connections of the only fixed telecommunications company in Gaza Strip – Paltel – has been severely damaged. Furthermore, cellular telecommunication companies such as Jawwal have incurred major damages. Major Internet Service Providers (ISPs) have also been targeted, either directly or through the destruction of their equipment, facilities, or connections. (See Figure -11-) The total value of damages in this sector is estimated at $33,567,668.

For the rehabilitation of damages in the telecommunications and IT sector, long term interventions are needed in order to repair the damage incurred by Paltel and Jawwal networks. In addition, the launching of Wataniya network – which has been restricted by Israel – would also be needed, in order for this sector to grow, and in order to respond to the growing needs of the population in Gaza Strip. This rehabilitation would require allowing the entry of civil work and telecommunications equipment needed, in addition for allowing the building of a 3G network in Gaza Strip.

SOCIAL PROTECTION

There has been a high number of civilian fatalities and injuries in Gaza since the 7th of July. This has raised serious concerns about attacks impacting civilians; violating international human law and human rights. Half million people are now homeless as a result of the Israeli assault, almost 700 families lost one or more members, 56 families were entirely killed, 4000 extra orphans were created, 469 children and 243 women were killed, 10,193 were injured (including 3,084 children, 1,970 women, and 368 elderly).<sup>42</sup> 40% of injuries are likely to maintain some form of disability. Up to 373,000 children are now suffering from psychological traumas because of the shelling or loss of family members. Approximately 1000 women lost their primary livelihood provider and have been under trauma<sup>43</sup>.

Up to 100,000 families need food assistance, and 900,000 people remain without or have very limited access to water. Almost 3000 fishermen lost their income. Up to 22 NGOs, associations and charities have been totally damaged and 200 others were partially damaged; thus leaving some 180,000 people without services provided by these institutions<sup>44</sup>.

As a result, new households will fall into a poverty trap and will suffer from food insecurity. Orphans are left without financial means, and newly impoverished students cannot afford school fees. The operational capacity of the Ministry of Social Affairs (MoSA) is affected by the assault, and thousands of families have become vulnerable.

Priority Interventions for the social protection within the immediate/relief phase are summarized as follows<sup>45</sup>:

- Scaling up or increasing the coverage of Cash Transfers Program (CTP) to reach 85,000 households in Gaza (pre-assault period: 65,000 households).
- Scaling up health insurance coverage to 60,000 households.
- Scaling up the coverage of regular food assistance program to 50,000 households.
- Provision of food parcels or vouchers to 28,000 IDPs in public schools.
- Provision of non-food items to 28,000 IDPs in public schools.
- Provision of cash assistance to families hosting IDPs.
- Provision of urgent cash assistance to be used for rent and other expenditures.
- Provision of cash assistance to 40,000 households to help them improve their housing conditions and make some repairs on their own.

Priority Interventions for the social protection sector within the recovery period are summarized as follows:

- Provision of the new orphans with sponsorship cash allowance.
- Scaling up the exemption of school fees to 140,000 students.
- Financial support for 22 NGOS with total damage to be used for renting a new place.
- Financial support for NGOs with partial damage

Priority interventions for the social protection sector for the long term (reconstruction) period are summarized as follows:

- Orientation, reintegration, human resources development and capacity building of some 250 MoSA employees who have been out of work since June 2007.
- Provision of vocational support, as well as residence adaptation for the newly disabled.
- Helping female headed households to gain self-reliance through economic empowerment grants to launch small income-generating projects.
- Targeting families with micro-credit programs to launch small businesses.
- Integration of the disabled through economic empowerment grants.

The estimated finance required to cover the suggested interventions over three periods of immediate, early recover and long term periods are reflected in Table -11-<sup>46</sup>.

MUNICIPAL FACILITIES

The facilities of the local authorities - represented by municipalities - on which the citizens of Gaza Strip depend for the provision of public services have incurred severe damages. These damages have prohibited municipalities from practicing their essential role during the attacks. Despite the continuous attack on the Gaza Strip, municipality workers have managed to provide emergency services such as opening blocked roads.

The damages incurred by municipalities include those affecting the main buildings of these municipalities, recreational facilities under their supervision such as public parks, and municipal equipment including computers and printers. Figure -12- reflects the value of damages incurred by all municipal facilities according to governorate.

It is important to note that road, electricity, water, and sewage networks under the supervision of these municipalities have been severely damaged as well, but all these damages have been mentioned in the corresponding sectors, while this sector reflects damages incurred by municipal facilities only.

The Case of Beit Hanoun Municipality

Among Gaza Strip's municipalities, Beit Hanoun – located within North Gaza Governorate – has incurred the most damages in terms of its infrastructure, and municipal facilities. According to municipal officials, the severity of damages has turned the city into an uninhabitable area. The city of Beit Hanoun has incurred damages to many of its main roads, whose value is estimated at $4.6 million. Furthermore, the city's main water network has been partially damaged, not to mention the damages on 5 of its main wells. It is estimated that the value of damages incurred by Beit Hanoun's municipality and its public infrastructure reaches $10,560,000.*

<sup>46</sup> This amount reflects the requested budget to tackle the impacts of the Israeli assault on Gaza only. It does not include the budget of MoSA regular programs and interventions being implemented before the assault.

Figure -12- Estimated value of damages incurred by municipal facilities, according to governorate

RULE OF LAW

The Gaza deep and unprecedented humanitarian crisis resulted in a weak and un-operational rule of law institutions and dysfunctional justice system causing lack of access to justice by citizens. The un-operational rule of law institutions include courts, prosecution departments, rehabilitation centers, prisons, and police stations. The buildings of several civil society organizations (CSOs) were targeted and damaged by the Israeli shelling during the assault; such as Al-Atta Charitable Society /Association IUG, University of Palestine and UCAS, Al Azhar University and Hayat Women Shelter<sup>47</sup>. CSOs including CBOs and academic institutions' staff were unable to report to work; many have suffered out of the dangerous and unsafe situation and were obliged to leave their houses and take refuge in shelters, some have lost close family members, and some were killed. With such a dysfunctional justice system, violence at IDPs (internally displaced persons) centers including sexual assaults, and sexual exploitation, besides other criminal disputes among IDPs, such as drug use, thefts, family feud, etc were all reported during the assault.

It is also important to note that Land, property and housing are under dispute; the plight of thousands of IDPs won't be resolved in years particularly whose houses were completely destroyed or massively damaged. In addition, IDPs will face lots of complex problems such as: identity, papers and documents, compensations, reconstruction, access to public services, inheritance rights, identification of landmarks, etc. Personal Status issues such as Women; in particular widows will face issues such as forced marriages, custody, alimony, property, and identity issues. In addition to the orphan children who will be the victims of this entire dispute.

For the early recovery priority interventions the following is needed<sup>48</sup>:

* Beit Hanoun Municipality, August 2014.

<sup>47</sup> Hayat Shelter is the only shelter run by CS in Gaza and designated for the protection of ladies and girls victims of domestic violence

- Support civil society swift restoration through minor repairs and rehabilitation of infrastructure of the damaged institutions, provision of in kind as well as rental subsidiaries and other needs; and to enhance their engagement in supporting rule of Law and access to justice.
- Scale up the magnitude of legal assistance rendered to vulnerable groups including IDPs and returnees on land, housing and property and identity/ documents issues particularly women suffering from violence, sexual exploitation, exclusion and discrimination.
- Support confidence building measures including awareness raising, guidance, dialogue, outreach, and community legal empowerment.
- Support national human rights groups/organizations efforts vis-a-vie monitoring, documentation and international advocacy to combat International Human Law (IHL) and Human Rights (HR) violations.
- Support Ministry of Justice through policy dialogue on legal harmonization and institutional reintegration efforts, legislative reform and technical capacity building of judges, prosecutors , clerks and policemen.
- Pending on the political developments on the ground, provide support to key justice institutions that sustained damages, including minor repairs and maintenance contributions.
- Support community security through strengthening the criminal justice mainly the efforts to address HR and sexual and gender-based violence (SGBV), including legal recourse of SGBV victims and development of a community-based monitoring mechanisms as well as safety nets for women and other responses.

RELIGIOUS SITES

The hostilities and attacks on Gaza have also reached the religious sector, under the supervision of the Palestinian Ministry of Al Awqaf. Similar to shelters, houses, schools, and health facilities, the attacks did not leave out religious buildings and houses of worship which have also incurred major damages.

Among the mosques of the Gaza Strip, a total of 64 mosques have been completely damaged, while 150 have incurred partial damages.<sup>50</sup> Additionally, other facilities under the supervision of the Palestinian Ministry of Awqaf have been targeted. Those include 12 graveyards, 3 zakat committee offices, the building of the Waqf directory in the city of Gaza, and a storehouse for the Zakat committees in Bani Suhaila stocked with hundreds of humanitarian aids and packages. The attacks also damaged a Christian church.

SUMMARY OF DAMAGES

Under these circumstances, it is clear that there has been severe loss of human life, significant damage to buildings, municipal, health and educational infrastructure across Gaza; leaving an extremely fragile environment in terms of food security and livelihoods, serious shortage to access to water and hygiene articles. Women and children have been most affected during the current hostilities as evidenced by the high number of fatalities, injuries and displacement amongst them. There are also indications of gender specific needs related to psychosocial support for boys and girls and also women. The protection of civilians and the adherence to international humanitarian law, human rights law, and the respect for the right to life should be of paramount concern. Additionally, the destruction and damages should be investigated as soon as possible to assess the real value of damages due to this assault. The response should ensure that gender sensitive approaches are mainstreamed throughout the response starting with data collection for assessments of needs. In the immediate term, this is particularly critical to interventions related to shelter and non-food items (NFI). The international bodies should act rapidly against the political restrictions; especially those affecting access to food, water, electricity, medication, construction material to save the lives of the Palestinian people and protect them from potential disease outbreak and other public health crises as well as to respect them as human beings.

According to this preliminary assessment, the value of damages resulted by this assault are estimated to reach up to $2,768,277,316 for the different sectors (See Figure -13-). These estimates would reflect the initial needs generated at the sector level and address the urgent funding requirements for rehabilitation/reconstruction of Gaza. (See Map -3-)

Earlier, 46-year-old Ismail Salim al-Najjar and 49-year-old Muhammad Ahmad Ibrahim al-Najjar were killed in an airstrike. An airstrike destroyed the home of Basim Naim, and at 7:30 a.m. two houses in al-Shati refugee camp and Beit Lahiya were completely destroyed by aerial attacks. - Israel: Targeting civilian homes for alleged military purposes is a war crime. Geneva-Euro-Mid Observer for Human Rights expresses great concern regarding the “knock on the roof” practice, in which Israeli forces fire a light missile on the roof of the home as a “warning”, before firing another missile in less than a minute which destroys the home completely. These warning have been reported to be lethal, as casualties have been reported including injuries. Additionally, not enough time is provided for civilians to evacuate properly. Hundreds of Palestinian citizens have received warnings from the Israeli Occupation Forces in several areas in the Gaza Strip ordering them to evacuate their homes as Israeli forces were about to bomb them. Israeli forces claim that neighborhoods surrounding these homes are used by the Palestinian resistance to fire rockets at Israel. However Israel has not provided evidence that justifies its claims. Moreover, holding civilians accountable for an act they did not commit amounts to collective punishment, which is a war crime under International law. Euro-mid cites that Israeli Forces have been targeting civilian homes in the Gaza Strip for six days in a wide range exceeding military necessities and using excessive force. Euro-mid Observer, based in Geneva, added in a press release on Sunday 13 July 2014 that the areas which Israel have commanded to immediately evacuate are very large; from the east of Attatrah to Salatin Street and the entire west and north areas of Jabalia Camp, which are highly populated. Approximately 300,000 people live in this area. This makes targeting them in such way unjustified and does not take into account "the principle of proportionality" between the anticipated military advantage and the destruction of civilians' properties and livelihoods. Additionally, Israeli air strikes have targeted civilian homes in the Gaza Strip and demolishing them completely for being the family homes of " Hamas members". However, in most cases no evidence has emerged that indicates that the alleged " Hamas operative" was inside the homes at the time of the attack. Israel claims that these homes are being used to store munitions or for military purposes, however in most cases, women and children and elderly were among the deaths. Deliberately attacking civilian homes constitutes a war crime and also amounts to collective punishment against the families. The strike on the home of Al-Batsh family on July 13 in Gaza city was the deadliest family massacre since Israel launched its offence. The strike killed 18 members and completely destroyed the family home, while the " Hamas operative" that Israel was after, was not killed in the attack. Euro-mid mentioned that UN agency UNRWA has opened 8 schools so far to accommodate at least 17,000 displaced in the northern Gaza Strip as they fled their homes at dawn. Euro-mid states that Israeli Forces have intended to target civilian homes in a wide range since the assault on Gaza started. In the first 7 days, 1653 houses have been damaged, 240 of them were totally destroyed. In addition, 25 mosques were damaged, 4 of them were totally destroyed; 6 medical clinics and 39 schools were damaged. Israel in its attacks on civilian homes has proved to have no respect to human lives in the Gaza Strip. The Israeli Occupying Force breached laws of armed conflict by attacking indiscriminately civilians in at least several incidents, by targeting civilian and protected facilities, by failing to provide unquestionably effective warning to civilians at risk and by failing to implement rules of international humanitarian law regarding military occupation. The pattern of Israeli attacks and the high number of civilian casualties show elements of reckless conduct, disregard for civilian lives and property and a consistent failure to distinguish between military targets and civilians and civilian objects. - The Gaza Strip's sole power plant shut down due to a large fire caused by Israeli shelling on Tuesday morning, after at least 57 were killed in a series of Israeli strikes from land, air, and sea since midnight. The strikes brought the death toll in Gaza to 1,156, including nearly 300 children, with more than 6,700 injured in 22 days of Israeli assault, as the Israeli military said it launched strikes on 70 "targets" across the Strip. The military also announced its deadliest 12 hours since the beginning of the conflict, with 10 soldiers killed on Monday alone, bringing the total to 53. Meanwhile, Israeli shelling on the Gaza Strip power lead to a major fire at the station, shutting down production for the coastal enclave's 1.8 million people. Fathi al-Sheikh Khalil, deputy head of the power authority in Gaza, said that one shell had hit a fuel container, setting fire to it, after another shell had hit a steam engine in the plant. Khalil said that teams on site were unable to control the fire. Even before the plant shut down, electricity was severely rationed in eight hour increments, a result of the eight-year long Israeli siege on Gaza that has led to frequent shortages of basic necessities including the fuel needed to run the plant. An AFP reporter saw huge fires raging near the plant Tuesday morning, noting that fire department vehicles were still unable to reach the area. The damage of the power plant exacerbated the heavy damage to civilian infrastructure in Gaza already inflicted during the 22 days of the Israeli offensive aimed at stamping out militant rocket fire and destroying attack tunnels. Besides the power plant, Gaza also purchases electricity from Israel, but many of the supply lines has been badly damaged by the recent fighting, Sheikh Khalil said. "Five out of 10 of the Israeli electricity lines into the Gaza Strip were also damaged because of Israeli shelling, and maintenance still cannot reach the areas and fix them," he explained. 'We will resist until freedom' Israeli warplanes on Tuesday struck the house of Hamas' top leader in Gaza, Ismail Haniyeh, inside the al-Shati refugee camp. The Hamas leader responded angrily to the attack, pointing out however that the strike would not break the will of the people of Gaza. "My house is not more valuable than the house of any other Gazan, and destroying stones will not break our determination and resistance," he said in a statement. "We will resist until freedom." His son Abed Salam Haniya said the house had been struck twice in the attack. Israeli strikes across the Gaza Strip on Tuesday morning also hit a number of governmental institutions, mosques, and Hamas-related media centers. Al-Amin Muhammad mosque was struck by Israeli warplanes in western Gaza City, and al-Salihin mosque in Rafah and al-Shujaiyeh. At least two airstrikes were fired at the International Gaza Airport in eastern Rafah, and another targeted the offices of the Hamas-affiliated al-Aqsa TV in al-Sheikh Radwan neighborhood. The Palestinian Journalist Bloc said in a statement Israeli forces struck the Hamas-affiliated station's offices in the al-Nasser neighborhood, the Sheikh Radwan neighborhood, and the al-Rimal neighborhoods of Gaza City. The Israeli army confirmed the strikes on al-Aqsa's offices in an emailed statement. Strikes "targeted the propaganda dissemination capabilities used to broadcast the messages of (Hamas') military wing," the statement said.   - The bodies of 20 Palestinians were recovered from the rubble of destroyed buildings in the northern Gaza Strip on Wednesday evening, as Gazans took stock of a 23-day Israeli assault that has killed 1,360 people so far with no end in sight. The announcement by Gaza medical teams of the recovery of the bodies in Jabaliya came only hours after Israeli shelling killed 17 in a crowded market in Shujaiyya, as thousands took advantage of a temporary Israeli ceasefire to shop on the third day of the Muslim Eid holiday. Ambulances raced racing towards the site of the blast as medics and residents frantically tried to gather up the dead bodies. An AFP correspondent saw at least five bodies being shoved onto stretchers and driven off to hospitals or mortuaries as quickly as the ambulances could take them. Even civilian cars were used to evacuate the dead and the wounded. Ministry of Health Spokesman Ashraf al-Qidra figures said Wednesday evening that the total death toll had surpassed 1,360 and 7,677 injured. Of those, 130 were killed and 400 injured on Wednesday alone, as even the temporary Israeli ceasefire failed to slow the carnage. More than 240,000 -- or 1 in 8 Gazans -- have been displaced. Israel earlier announced a four-hour temporary humanitarian ceasefire from 3-7 p.m. However, it exempted all areas in which its forces were actively operating, leading Hamas to denounce the move as "worthless." Despite the ceasefire announcement, around 34 Palestinians were killed by Israeli shelling during the period. Israeli shelling from land and sea, as well as airstrikes, continued into the night. Ismail al-Qosas was killed in Israeli shelling on northern Gaza. Mayar Jamal Abu Musbeh, 9, and Mohammad Taysir Abu Haza, 25, were killed in shelling on houses in Deir al-Balah, while Alaa Abd al-Karim al-Qarra, 23, died of injuries sustained earlier in Gaza City. UN school bombed, Earlier on Wednesday, another 16 people were killed when at least two Israeli tank shells slammed into a UN school in Jabaliya refugee camp in the north, in an attack angrily denounced by the UN chief and the world body's agency for Palestinian refugees. ### Israel's Colonial activities are against International Laws

Lead-up

Decades have passed to the endorsement of the Fourth Geneva Convention by almost every country in the world. This admirable and conclusive output represents a deposit of experiences of all wars that predated the outset of the convention document in question. The articles of the convention have proven to be invaluable to its end, which is the "protection of civilian persons in time of war". In the Israeli – Palestinian conflict, the latter have always regarded the articles of the convention to great importance in their right of pursuance of an independent state of their own. One particular article of the convention is crucial in definition to the Palestinians, article 49 (section III, Occupied Territories) states:

The Occupying Power shall not deport or transfer parts of its own civilian population into the territory it occupies.

-- Article 49, Geneva Convention relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War, (12 August 1949).

The relevance of this particular article did present itself not until the 1967 war, when Israel captured the West Bank; including East Jerusalem (5661 Km<sup>2</sup>) and the Gaza Strip (362 Km<sup>2</sup>) and the Syrian's Golan Heights. The consecutive Israeli governments (Labor & Likud) relentlessly perused implementation of the settlements program in the territories occupied during the 1967 war in order to consolidate the Israeli State control over the occupied areas and consequently preclude the possible emergence of a Palestinian State. The consecutive Israeli governments played the settlements' card the same way it did in the era that predated the 1967 war and the 1948 war, which is to establish sovereignty, security and define territorial limits.

In 1967, Israel occupied the West Bank including East Jerusalem and Gaza in addition to Sinai (Egypt) and the Golan Heights (Syria).

On November 22, 1967, the U.N. Security Council Resolution 242 was issued, which emphasized the inadmissibility of the acquisition of territory by war and the need to work for a just and lasting peace in which every State in the area can live in security and called for the withdrawal of Israeli armed forces from territories occupied in the recent conflict (1967 war) and achieving a just settlement of the refugee problem. During such actions; Israel has violated the international law in an unprecedented manner and like no mother country in the World. These violations list as follows:

Violations of UN Resolutions

Major Legal Principle Violated - As Per International Law -

Member-Nations of the United Nations have signed a contract with the United Nations that they will obey the resolutions of the Security Council. Israel has violated numerous Security Council resolutions, and has ignored many resolutions of the General Assembly, and the 2004 advisory opinion of the International Court of Justice, which ruled that Israel's security wall was in violation of international law, and thus should be removed immediately, and those Palestinian inhabitants who have been harmed by the wall's construction should be paid compensation for their losses.

- Charter of the United Nations, article 25 (26 June 1945)
- International Court of Justice - 2004 advisory opinion on the wall in paragraphs 137, 149-159 rules the wall illegal and that it should be taken down immediately, and all persons harmed by its construction should be compensated for their losses.

Israel, by constructing the Segregation Wall, is flagrantly violating all international humanitarian laws, specifically The Hague Regulations of 1907 and the Fourth Geneva Convention of 1949:

[1] Israel's colonial activities are against International Laws

- The Hague Regulations expressly forbids an occupying power 'to destroy or seize the enemy's property, unless such destruction or seizure is imperatively demanded by the necessities of war' (Article 23).
- The appropriation and destruction of Palestinian land is an especially serious violation of the Fourth Geneva Convention, Article 147 that clearly prohibits, "extensive destruction and appropriation of property, not justified by military necessity and carried out unlawfully and wantonly." Violations of Article 147 constitute grave breaches of the Convention and should be prosecuted as War Crimes.

The construction of the Wall also restricts the movement of Palestinians within the territory they live and consequently affects the exercise of other rights such as the right to work, the right to health, the right to an adequate standard of living, the right to protection of family life and the right to education, all set in the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights.

Article 6: The States Parties to the present Covenant recognize the right to work, which includes the right of everyone to the opportunity to gain his living by work which he freely chooses or accepts, and will take appropriate steps to safeguard this right.

Article 10: The widest possible protection and assistance should be accorded to the family, which is the natural and fundamental group unit of society, particularly for its establishment and while it is responsible for the care and education of dependent children. Marriage must be entered into with the free consent of the intending spouses.

Article 11: The States Parties to the present Covenant recognize the right of everyone to an adequate standard of living for himself and his family, including adequate food, clothing and housing, and to the continuous improvement of living conditions. The States Parties will take appropriate steps to ensure the realization of this right, recognizing to this effect the essential importance of international co-operation based on free consent.

Article 13 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and article 12 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights also entail Israel to respect the right of Palestinians in the Occupied Territory to move freely from one place to another.

Article 13:

4. No one shall be arbitrarily deprived of the right to enter his own country.

[2] Wall Constructions are against International laws and Human Conventions

Under International law, Israel is illegally constructing the Segregation Wall on the Palestinian Lands and depriving Palestinian residents their full rights in life, of which, right to Freedom of Movement which is protected by Article 12 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR), which states that: 'Everyone lawfully within the territory of a State shall, within that territory, have the right to liberty of movement and freedom to choose his residence. 'Article 3 of the Fourth Geneva Convention of 1949 also strictly prohibits the occupying power from initiating 'violence to life and person' and 'outrages upon personal dignity, in particular humiliating and degrading treatment'.[2]

[3] The right to freedom of religion is protected under Article 18 of the ICCPR; and other rights that also fall under the various aspects of human rights law.

[1] This right is also protected under Article 13 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

[2] The Fourth Geneva Convention, Article 3, Sections (a) and (c).

The Wall also violates the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the International Covenant on Economical, Social, and Cultural Rights both of which Israel has signed.

[4] The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR) - Freedom of movement (ICCPR, art. 12):

1. Everyone lawfully within the territory of a State shall, within that territory, have the right to liberty of movement and freedom to choose his residence.
2. Everyone shall be free to leave any country, including his own.
3. The above-mentioned rights shall not be subject to any restrictions except those which are provided by law, are necessary to protect national security, public order (order public), public health or morals or the rights and freedoms of others, and are consistent with the other rights recognized in the present Covenant.

The States Parties to the present Covenant recognize the right of everyone to the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of physical and mental health.

[7] Fourth Geneva Conventions, article. 32:

*A protected persons shall not be have done to them anything of such a character as to cause the physical suffering or extermination ... the physical suffering or extermination of protected persons in their hands. [8] The International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (ICESCR) - Education (ICESCR, art.13):

The States Parties to the present Covenant recognize the right of everyone to education. They agree that education shall be directed to the full development of the human personality and the sense of its dignity, and shall strengthen the respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms.

[9] The International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (ICESCR) - Work (ICESCR, art. 6):

The States Parties to the present Covenant recognize the right of everyone to the enjoyment of just and favorable conditions of work which ensure, in particular

[10] The International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (ICESCR) - Food (ICESCR, art. 11):

The States Parties to the present Covenant recognize the right of everyone to an adequate standard of living for himself and his family, including adequate food, clothing and housing, and to the continuous improvement of living conditions. The States Parties will take appropriate steps to ensure the realization of this right, recognizing to this effect the essential importance of international co-operation based on free consent.

The Segregation Wall in the Occupied Palestinian Territory (OPT) also comprises a crime of apartheid according to the International Convention on the Suppression and Punishment of the Crime of Apartheid (1973) which defines apartheid as: 'the imposition of various legislative measures on different racial groups while injuring the rights of one. Moreover, the crime of Apartheid comprises a 'crime against humanity' and 'a serious threat to international peace and security'. It is a flagrant violation of international humanitarian law, specifically The Hague Regulations of 1907 and the Fourth Geneva Convention of 1949:

Hague Regulations 1907 Section II Article 23 also states that '[it is especially forbidden] to destroy or seize the enemy's property, unless such destruction or seizure be imperatively demanded by the necessities of war.'

Hague Regulations 1907 Section III Article 46 states that 'Family honor and rights, the lives of persons, and private property, as well as religious convictions and practice must be respected. Private property cannot be confiscated.'

Article 53 of the Fourth Geneva Convention also clears that: 'any destruction by the Occupying Power of real or personal property belonging individually or collectively to private persons, or to the State, or to other public authorities, or to social or cooperative organizations, is prohibited, except where such destruction is rendered absolutely necessary by military operations.'

The appropriation and destruction of Palestinian land is an especially serious violation of the Fourth Geneva Convention, Article 147 of which clearly prohibits, "extensive destruction and appropriation of property, not justified by military necessity and carried out unlawfully and wantonly.

Violations of Articles of the Fourth Geneva Convention constitute grave breaches of the Convention and should be prosecuted as War Crimes.

[11] Israel's Settlement Program in International Law

Settlement construction and expansion in light of the United Nations Security Council resolutions (UNSC), international laws, human rights and international covenants Israel's colonization activities in the Occupied Palestinian Territory (OPT) violates numerous United Nations Security Council and General Assembly Resolutions, primarily:

- UN Security Council Resolution 242 (1967): UNSCR Resolution 242 calls for 'the withdrawal of all Israeli armed forces from territories occupied' in the 1967 war.
- UNSC 242 effectively outlaws Israel's 38 year occupation of the West Bank (including East Jerusalem) and the Gaza Strip.

The principles of Resolution 242 are reiterated again in Security Council Resolution 452 (1979) which calls upon 'the Government and people of Israel to cease, on an urgent basis, the establishment, construction and planning of settlements in the Arab territories occupied since 1967, including Jerusalem,' the Security Council Resolution 446 (1979) which '[d]etermines that the policy and practices of Israel in establishing settlements in the Palestinian and other Arab territories occupied since 1967 have no legal validity and constitute a serious obstruction to achieving a comprehensive, just and lasting peace in the Middle East' and a further again in Security Council Resolution 465 (1980) .

Israel's settlement policy is also strictly forbidden by the Fourth Geneva Convention. In addition to violating the prescriptions against destruction to civilian property, Israel's program of populating the settlements with Jewish citizens violates Article 49 of the Convention. Article 49 states that 'the occupying power shall not deport or transfer parts of its own population into the territories it occupies.'

[12] Checkpoints in International Humanitarian Law

The system of Israeli checkpoints that cover the Occupied Palestinian Territory violates certain distinct principles of humanitarian law as codified in the Fourth Geneva Convention of 1949.

Among the rights, which checkpoints violate, are the right to healthcare (Article 56), the right to education (Article 50) and the right to freedom of religion (Article 58). Article 3 of the Convention also strictly prohibits the occupying power from initiating 'violence to life and person' and 'outrages upon personal dignity, in particular humiliating and degrading treatment'.

[13] International Human Rights Law

Israeli checkpoints violate the right to freedom of movement, the right to healthcare, the right to education, the right to religious freedom, the right to work, the right to food and water, the right to freedom from collective punishment, and other basic human rights. These rights are covered under various international treaties and covenants.

Article 12 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR), which states, protects Freedom of Movement: 'Everyone lawfully within the territory of a State shall, within that territory, have the right to liberty of movement and freedom to choose his residence.'<sup>[11]</sup>

[14] International Humanitarian Law

The system of Israeli checkpoints that severs the OPT also violates certain distinct principles of humanitarian law as codified in the Fourth Geneva Convention of 1949.

Among the rights, which checkpoints violate, are the right to healthcare (Article 56), the right to education (Article 50) and the right to freedom of religion (Article 58). Article 3 of the Convention also strictly prohibits the occupying power from initiating 'violence to life and person' and 'outrages upon personal dignity, in particular humiliating and degrading treatment'

[15] Destruction of Private Property in international law

The Israeli Policy of house demolition flagrantly violates all international laws and human Conventions, which only allows the demolition of houses when necessary for a military operation:

- Hague Convention IV (18 October 1907): Convention Respecting the Laws and Customs of War on Land: Article (23): 'To destroy or seize the enemy's property, unless such destruction or seizure be imperatively demanded by the necessities of war;'

[16] Convention (IV) relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War. Geneva, 12 August 1949, ARTICLE 53:

Any destruction by the Occupying Power of real or personal property belonging individually or collectively to private persons, or to the State, or to other public authorities, or to social or cooperative organizations, is prohibited, except where such destruction is rendered absolutely necessary by military operation.

-Violations of the International Law - Collective Punishment

Such a blockade is an outrageous violation of the international law and it is an evident disregard of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

As the Israeli government backed up by its racist legal entity sanctioned the decision of the Israeli Army to decrease the amount of fuel delivered to Gaza to just surviving level and some time to a total withhold, depriving residents there from electricity and transportation fuel. Even hospitals were unable at some point to activate the power generation to keep the hospital's equipment running. The Israeli actions stand in contradiction of international humanitarian law, which applies during war times and military occupations: a government that has effective control over a territory, such as the one Israel has over Palestinian Territories, is prohibited from attacking or denying objects that are essential to the survival of the civilian population.

In addition, Israel's actions in Gaza, is infringing a strict limit posed by the international law: the principal of proportionality, which states that a country, although it has the right to defend itself from an attack, can only use the amount of force against military objectives necessary to achieve its aim. By contrast, Israel is making suffer the whole population of Gaza. That goes clearly beyond the right of defense granted by the international law.

Collective Punishment is a comprehensive policy adopted by Israel in the Gaza Strip, against the population there. However, what Israel is leading in Gaza Strip is the most brutal the Palestinians had experienced since 1967. Houses' demolition, trees uprooting, land confiscation, imprisonment of family members as a mean of pressure, are part of Palestinians' everyday life, but the siege, the blockade, the cut of water, fuel, primary goods and electricity, the incursions and the killing of civilians, are much crueller and are in no way justified as defensive measures.

Collective Punishment is certainly an illegal action, which cannot be justified; it is illegal under any and every circumstances. There are several different branches of the international law that affirm its illegality, such as the international human rights law, the international humanitarian law, including the Fourth Geneva Convention in 1949 relative to the Protection of the Civilian Persons in War Time.

-Article 4. Persons protected by the Convention are those who, at a given moment and in any manner whatsoever, find themselves, in case of a conflict or occupation, in the hands of a Party to the conflict or Occupying Power of which they are not nationals.

-Article 33. No protected person may be punished for an offence he or she has not personally committed. Collective penalties and likewise all measures of intimidation or of terrorism are prohibited. Pillage is prohibited. Reprisals against protected persons and their property are prohibited.<sup>51</sup>

Also article 50 of the Hague Regulations states an analogous interdiction.

-Article 50. No general penalty, pecuniary or otherwise, shall be inflicted upon the population on account of the acts of individuals for which they cannot be regarded as jointly and severally responsible.<sup>52</sup>
